

Dear Dr. T,

After spending Thanksgiving with my family, having some extra time off from work, and thinking about the upcoming holiday season, I wanted to write you to catch up and fill you in on what I am doing today.

I relocated to Connecticut after I received my Master's degree in May 2008 from Ithaca College. I work at a private school for children with special needs (mainly children with cerebral palsy) as a Speech-Language Pathologist! I wanted to thank you for giving me the gift of communication and allowing me to share this gift with my students. I love my job and find it extremely rewarding knowing I am making a difference.

Thank you for everything; I am so thankful for SLCD for I know I would not be the young woman I am today if SLCD had not been a part of my life.

Happy Holidays!!

Love,

Julie Savage, MS, CCC/SLP

P.S. One of my professors once told me, "Julie, you're the poster child for speech-language pathology" 😊
