Glen Cove, NY June 14, 2010 –On June 4th the students at the School for Language and Communication Development had a day of fun in the sun at the end of the year Field Day.

Students and faculty played a number of outdoor games together with classmates and enjoyed the weather during the last month of school. Games included ball games, basketball, water games and even an inflatable obstacle course with slide.

The School for Language and Communication Development provides special education services to children with language disorders including those along the autism spectrum continuum. SLCD's program has grown from 36 preschoolers to more than 400 children ages 18 months to 21 years in elementary, middle and high school programs. As SLCD celebrates its 25th Anniversary this year, its mission to meet the special needs of children unable to speak or communicate still remains constant and the School's motto "Language Learning for Lifelong Success" is continuously upheld.
